JOHNSTON LETTER.

Knights of Pythias Banquet. Lee's Birthday to be Suita bly Observed. Mr. Lott's Class of Young Men.

The banquet of the Knights of Pythias held on the last Thursday evening at Turner hall was quite the pleasantest affair held here in some time, the only regret of it being the inability of the speaker. Hon. Mendel L. Smith, of Camden, to be present, but arrangement was made for speeches by local talent. The hall presented a pretty appearance, having been given over to 14 young ladies, and the banquet table was in the shape of a Greek cross, in the center there being a large pryamid of ferns and flowers, and at the four points, were arrangements of flowers, with troipeal fruits arranged temptingly on the festive board. Two hundred covers were laid, and the feast was greatly enjoyed. Concluding this, Mr. J. A. Lott acted as teast master, and the first to be heard from was Prof. William Fletcher Scott, on "why I am not a Pythian." He was greeted with a round of applause and his reasons afforded much laughter, and in his closing remarks he spoke of his high regard of the principles sustained by the K. of P.

The second speaker was Rev. E. H. Beckham, his subject being "Not decided." In his own characteristic way he handled his subject, and caused great laughter as he made a play upon the undecided young couples nearby, and told them that as soon as they did decide, they knew where to find him.

The third called upon was Mr. S. J. Watson, and his subject was "Hair," and the very subject brought forth merriment, and during his speech, the kept all laughing. He closed by saying that sithough he had now lost all bis hair, he had managed to keep all secrets of the Knights of Pythias.

The fourth speaker was Rev. P. E. Monroe on "Damon and Pythias." The keyncte of his remarks was friendship and he spoke feelingly of this characteristic of the order. Several other extemporaneous speeches were called for from some

Mr. Dunbar, of Augusta, has leased the hotel of Mr. U. S. Wertz, and moved his family here this week. The town at present has only one hotel and the need of another one has been felt.

Mrs. Harry Hamilton and Master Harry spent last week in Edgefield with Mesdames W. E. Lott and J H. Allen.

Mrs. Chas. Early has returned to Florence after a months stay at the home of her father, Mr. W. W. and able to walk about the house. school, did they induce you to be- Bull Run to the falling of the cur-

Gen. Robt. E. Lee's birthday will be celebrated on Sunday Jananditorium.

Y. W. A. had a good gift, but as yet all the envelopes have not been gathered in. The Sunbeams gave Little Agnes Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Brown, happened to a very painful accident last week. She had an open knife in her hand and running across the room fell, the knife in some way, piercing the lower jaw, a part of the blade extending through.

The class of young gentlemen, taught by Mrs. J. A. Lott, at the Baptist Sunday school, is one of the most interesting and promising. At the end of each quarter she has a written examination and the papers are splendid. In the last examination each one did re.narkably well, but especial mention is made of Mr. Wallace Turner who made 100, perfect; Mr. Jefferson, 2nd, 99; Mr. Irwin Reames, 3rd, 98. It was not known that at the end of the year a prize would be given, and Wallace was surprised with a handsome volume of Ben Hur.

ing greatly for the past month with power out of the governor's hands you love me more than you do? his eye and for two weeks has been in a darkened room with the afflicted member bandaged, and it was or our grand old state are in bad feared at first that it would have to shape when our executive will conbe removed. About 6 or 8 months done crime. We have laws, ago, his left eye was removed, let us abide by them and every offi- present.

thinking this might strengthen th

A junior Y. W. A. was organiz ed last Sunday afternoon, the offi cers being, president, Miss Paulin Lewis; vice-president, Miss Bessi-Ford Turner; treasurer. Miss Lois Hoyt; secretary, Miss Frances Tu-ner; organist, Miss Bettie Waters.

The first quarterly conference of the year will convene Saturday and Sunday at the Methodist church, and the presiding elder, Bisho. Dancan will preach at the Sunday morning service.

Mrs. John W. Marsh entertained with a delightful dining on Satur day, for their guest, and aunt of the latter, Mrs. W. B. Bouknight, o Jacksonville, Florida.

Miss Annie Loise Asbill, of Winston-Salem, N. C., is spen ting awhile with her young friends. Mr. James Kenny, of Mississippi, visited relatives here recently, it having been 30 years since he was iu South Carolina.

Miss Cora Mobley is the guest of Miss Mary Matheny in Augusta.

Branch.

over the fact that the weather man he was not in my range of vision. made a mistake when he predicted a cold wave for us. We had a wave from the missionary's own experibut not a cold one, only a little ence of the various classes of heardamp and disagreeable. Instead of ers spoken of in the parable. But the cold wave we have had good before he began with these illustraweather on our oat crop, for the tions he dropped a word that might outlook is good and the best of it is well sink into the heart of those we have a larger crop. Yes there who were opposed to missions. He has been more oats sown this last said, "You have all seen men sowyear than for years past, and if the ing, who could ill spare the seed spring is favorable there will be they were scattering over the considerably more sown.

Our merchants are busy closing sowing. Their very bread depend-up last year's accounts and making ed on it." preparations for a good business for this year and with a will to make our work." There are "by-path" stringency. The farmers generally are hopeful and apparently happy over the prospects of a good crop year. According to some of the old people's saying and prognostications of the old twelve days we will have a seasonable year. Well let us hope. Were it not for hope we would be the most miserable creatures on earth.

The high school with all the matter of useful information. teachers in their places have returned after the holidays and resumed ground hearer" the preacher told of will only state here, that the voluntheir work, and the children are a young princess, who while in glad and happy and seem to enjoy school in England had joined a their part of the program, i. e. the Christian church and after return- seventh regiments. Those in the recess part of it from the noise they make at noon and evening.

Some sickness in and around town. None serious however. Mr. B. D. Kitchings has been

house.

with grippe and cold but she is up minister left us last Saturday for princess said "No," and the two his new home and work at Black- continued friends. mary 20th, instead of the 19th. The stock in Chester county where he occasion will be held at the school has two churches and a good and pleasant field to work in. We were er; and, best of all, two others to a commercial way with the largest The Christmas offering from the sorry to see him leave us but we Womans' Missionary Society, of are glad that he has a good place the Baptist church was $110. The and we hope for him and his family a prosperous and a happy year. Brother Freeman and his family have endeared themselves to the relate, an honest, servant, who was effort to capture the city. On the large majority of our people here, as ignorant as he was ugly but who 19th of April President Lincoln not only among his own flock but slowly and surely came to conver- issued a proclamation blockading the Methodist, and the young people are a unit in his praise. Well, Bro. Mims, look up our to work now soon. There is one the state a lot of money by doing jury. Let us have a jury to try all can undo all that 12 men and judge do, and sometimes it takes several days for the 12 men the judge and this state of things can't be remedied. We have some good lawyers in our legislative halls and if there Mr. James Turner has been suffer- is any way to take the pardoning it should be done at least for the next two years. Brother Mims, we er from a magistrate to a constable is supposed to see that the law is kept to the letter.

If matters continue to go on as they now are our grand old state and her people will be looked upon as a set of anarchists by our sister Don Carlos.

Rev. John Lake Preached in Greenville.

A writer in the Baptist Courier last week had the following to say oncerning a sermon preached at he First Baptist church in Greenville by Rev. John Lake:

The text was "The sower sowth the word." Mark 4:14. There is something quite charming about Mr. Lake. His face wins you, and there is an honest ring in his voice. He is simplicity itself; and has the happy faculty of being abie to select a few things out of many, a few that illustrate his point. There appears to be nothing especially gifted in his method of telling his story, but it has been a long time since I saw an audience as deeply Newsy Letter From Plum interested in missionary narratives. There were all classes of people out on Sunday morning but if there Dear Editor:- We are rejoicing was a listless auditor in the house

The sermon gave illustrations ground; and yet they dared not stop our women that sustained them at

"We have discouragements in ary had sat in a boat and preached to teeming hundreds upon the shore; and in the very midst of his most earnest appeals, would be stopped by some listener with a question about the price of his clothes! And this not from mere curiosity. It is just now becoming fashionable in China to wear the Western garb and the price is a

"As an illustration of the "stony ing to China became an attendant nineteenth went west, and were in upon the Queen Dowager, that won- all the campaigns and battles in derful but monstrous old woman Kentucky, Tennessee, Alabama and who hated fiercely all things Chris- Mississippi, and those who endured tian and foreign. The young pri ... were with Johnston at the final surquite sick but is up and around the cess won the old woman. One render. The seventh was sent early Mrs. E. Colman has been sick evening when the two were walk- in the war to Virginia, and shared ing together the queen said, "I love with the dauntless Lee, the glories you. But, while in your Western and disasters that befell him from Brother Freeman the Baptist come a Christian?" The young tain at Appomattox.

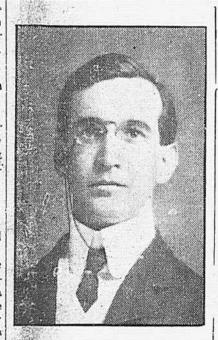

er and one of great power.

The missionary explained that the version of the Bible which conlawyers to convict, and one man can verted that man is now out of print and must have a place along with undo in a moment what they have and that he wants to raise $10,000 the defense of Gibraltar and Sevastoissue another edition."

He-If I was rich, darling, would | batteries.

She-Well, I might not love you any more, but I would look forward to our wedding day with a great troops from Georgia and Florida.

Edgefield's Delegation to General Assembly

Senator B. E. Nicholson

Representative I. P. DeLaughter.

Representative Jerome H. Courtney.

"The Defenders of Charleston."

The history of any nation is largely the history of its great men, its leaders in thought and action. Especially is this true of Edgefield, for her history has been made entirely by her own brave men. Edgefield county may justly claim a conspicuous place in all of the great truggles that have involved the country since it has been established as a county, by the number and bravery of the soldiers she has sent to the front, and for the heroism of home. In that sad struggle between the States from the borders of Edgefield county, a large number of companies went to the front in defense of the principles they be-Ly to be right.

rne subject of this sketch is 'The defenders of Charleston," and it is with a feeling of pride that I write, that the defenders of Charleston in the sixties were to a large extent Edgefield county men. It is not my purpose in this article to give an account of the battles out side of this state, even of these in which our troops participated, for time and space will not permit. I teers from Edgetield were mostly embodied in the nineteenth and

Charles on, being then the lar gest sea-port town in South Caroli-"There was also a fine story to na, with a full bay open to the lar-illustrate the "thorny ground hearillustrate those who received the countries of the world, was necessa-Word into good and honest hearts. rily a much desired port to be tak-But these last can't be reduced in en. The union troops realized this compass without killing them. One and from the beginning it was evi was of a poor, and, remarkable to dent that they would bend every sion and afterwards to a devoted the whole southern coast from and useful life. The other was of South Carolina to Texas and they a great scholar who became a felt assured that with Charleston new supervisor, Mr. Edmunds, and Christian after he became a profes- well in hand, they could land troops tell him our roads are more "holy sor in a Christian college; and who and supplies as needed. It only rethan righteous," and we will take later, reading the Bible translated mained to be shown that the city by pleasure in showing him around. I by Baptists and printed in our Chi- the sea was not to be as easily cap guess our law makers will get down nese publishing house, noticed that tured as was supposed, for history baptizo was translated by the Chi- will agree with me that the fighte thing they might do that will save nese word for immersion. Mrs. about Charleston harbor are among Lake had but little trouble in lead- the most remarkable of all time. All away with the criminal part of our ing him to the light; and to hear eyes were now turned on Sumter, was to obey. That man was bap- and from the booming of the first civil cases but I don't see the need tized in a pond before a jeering gun, there was a tremendous outof a criminal jury when one man crowd and is today a deacon-preach- burst of patriotic feeling over the entire south. The defense of Fort Sumter stands in the first rank among the great sieges of history. done. Something is out of joint if to enable our publishing house to pal, Alfred Rhett, was the immortal commander of this port and the credit is due to his courage, and the value of the men who manned his

> The Confederate government sent Gen. Beauregard to assume charge of the defense in Charleston harbor. and he also had in his command that the Georgians showed such skill and ardor, the enemies loss being very heavy.

Next in importance to Sumter, and only a few hundred yards away s Moultrie. This port was held by Col. William P. Butler of Edgefield. one of the bravest of the brave, with live companies of the first Carolina infantry. I must mention with especial emphasis the battle of Battery Wagner on Morris Island. Beauregard was gifted with wonderful engineering ability, and the duce crops maintained fertile? By shell shown in the construction of the growing of legumes, which add this fort was of the highest order. One of the forts now used at West mineral plant foods, phosphorus and Point is an exact imitation of this potassium, than the crops remove; one. The ground on which these and the plowing under of stable mafortifications stood has long since mare and vegetable matter to redisappeared beneath the waves, but blenish the supply of decaying orhe memory of the heroisal disty-figuric matter or humas. ed there will live forever.

which the union forces under Gen. in dealing with the soul? Hunter were defeated by the Confederates under Gen. Johnson Ha- ed that we seemed to have lost good. They were repelled twice in sight of everything else in soil manan effort to destroy the railroad be- agement in our desire to get more tween Charleston and Savannah, humus. This is not quite true, but and two weeks after this defeat the if we could get our southern farunion forces abandoned James Is- mers to supply the needed humus land. Major Joseph Abney another to their soils, we would be quite one of Edgefield's brave men, with willing to ignore all other matters his intrepid body of sharpshooters held a position on the other side, that the addition of the needed huand the most poorly defended coast mus would do more to increase the of James Island, but this however was not engaged in the battle of Secessionville.

We find another Edgefield conn ty man at the front as commander of Battery Bee, on Sullivan's Is land. This was Lieut. Col. John C. Simkins. As soon as South Carolina seceded and it was known that war was inevitable, he was among the first to offer his services to Gov. Pickens. He did splendid service in the repulse of the Iron Clads in the naval Attack on Charleston. On the night of the 16th of July, he with thre companies of the regiment, and Capt. Adams, Haskell and Tatum. was ordered to Battery Wagner on Morris Island. Here he acted as chief of artillery, and he and his devoted little band without rest or sleep stood under a terrific boinbardment until the night of the 18th, when while reculsing the enemy he fell, pierced through the right lung by a minnie ball.

I must not neglect to mention Gen. R. G. M. Dunovant, who was in charge of forces in Charleston, but I have been unable to find his exact location. In the commissary department we find Mr. John E Bacon, and our beloved Col. James Bacon.

These were all brave and gallant men and their lives have not been lived in vain. Had they all lived they would have held positions of trust and honor, and done good also in their nation's service, and history will certainly accord them their proper place.

Helen Sheppard Nicholson. (The foregoing paper was read at a meeting of the Edgefield chapter, U. D. C., by Mrs. Nichelson.

Supply Humus, and all Things Else Will be Added.

How does the so-called "resting" of land improve it? By the fact deal more impatience than I do at These were under Gen. Johnson that weeds and other vegetation Hagood, and it was at Honey Iill grow on it and take up the available yourself?"

plant foods and this vegetation dying and decaying furnishes this plant food back to the soil for other crops and in its decay also sets free still other plant foods for the use of succeeding plants.

How is 1 and under cultivation made richer? By the application of stable manure, the plowing under of crops and the supplying of mineral plant foods in larger quantities than the crops remove.

How are rich lands which pronitrogen; the application of more

These seem simple facts, which Students of the Confederate war every farmer knows are true. Then should also remember the fight at why not follow nature's methods Secessionville, on James Island, in and man's common sense practice

A correspondent recently intimatfor several years, feeling secure productiveness of Southern soils han anything else that can be done and confident that all other things will come in good season when our soils have been made as productive is a full supply of decaying vegetible matter will surely make them.

Statement From Mr. Blackwell.

I notice an item in your paper of January 8, from the Plum Branch correspondent where he has used my name very freely in connection with a supper given in honor of the Plum Branch Knights of Pythias by Dr. and Mrs. J. B. Adams. While I have no objections to his using my name in connection with such a grand affair as this no doubt was, and it was my most sincere regret that I could not be present, I wish that the Plum Branch correspondent would refrain from using my name in connection with a young lady in another section of the state, and in case he should refer to me or this lady in particular, I would be glad if he would first ascertain the facts of the case, for I don't know as there is anything to the report that this girl has pneumonia. P don't think it was anything more than a cold and what I said in regard to this was only a supposition of mine that it might be something of the kind and was not said for publication.

I do sincerely hope that the lady referred to will never see the piece that was written by the Plum Branch correspondent and in case she should see it I am writing this that she might fully understand that this information was not given out by me.

Yours very truly, J. B. Blackwell.

This piece of lace on my dress is over fifty years old." "It's beautiful. Did you make it